Withdrawal of SEL IMOC hypertension guidance (issued April 2021)

Following the development and approval of the Clinical Effectiveness South East London (CESEL) Guide on the management of hypertension in adults, the SEL IMOC guideline for the management of hypertension in adults has been retired.

This is because the treatment pathway for the management of hypertension in adults is now incorporated into the CESEL Guide along with information on lifestyle changes required for hypertension management. The medication related content within the CESEL Guide has been reviewed and approved through the SEL IMOC.

The CESEL adult hypertension Guide can be accessed here.
